

Los Angeles
World Airports

AIRPORTS DEVELOPMENT GROUP

Airports Development Group

Development Program Update

May 22, 2012

The New Tom Bradley International Terminal Aerial

Ramp area for Gate 134 is now paved and north concourse roof is almost complete.
April 28, 2012

The New Tom Bradley International Terminal Aerial

The existing concourses will be demolished after the new concourses are built. Aircraft will be able to use the east and west side of the new concourses. The existing concourses only have gates on the east side.

April 28, 2012

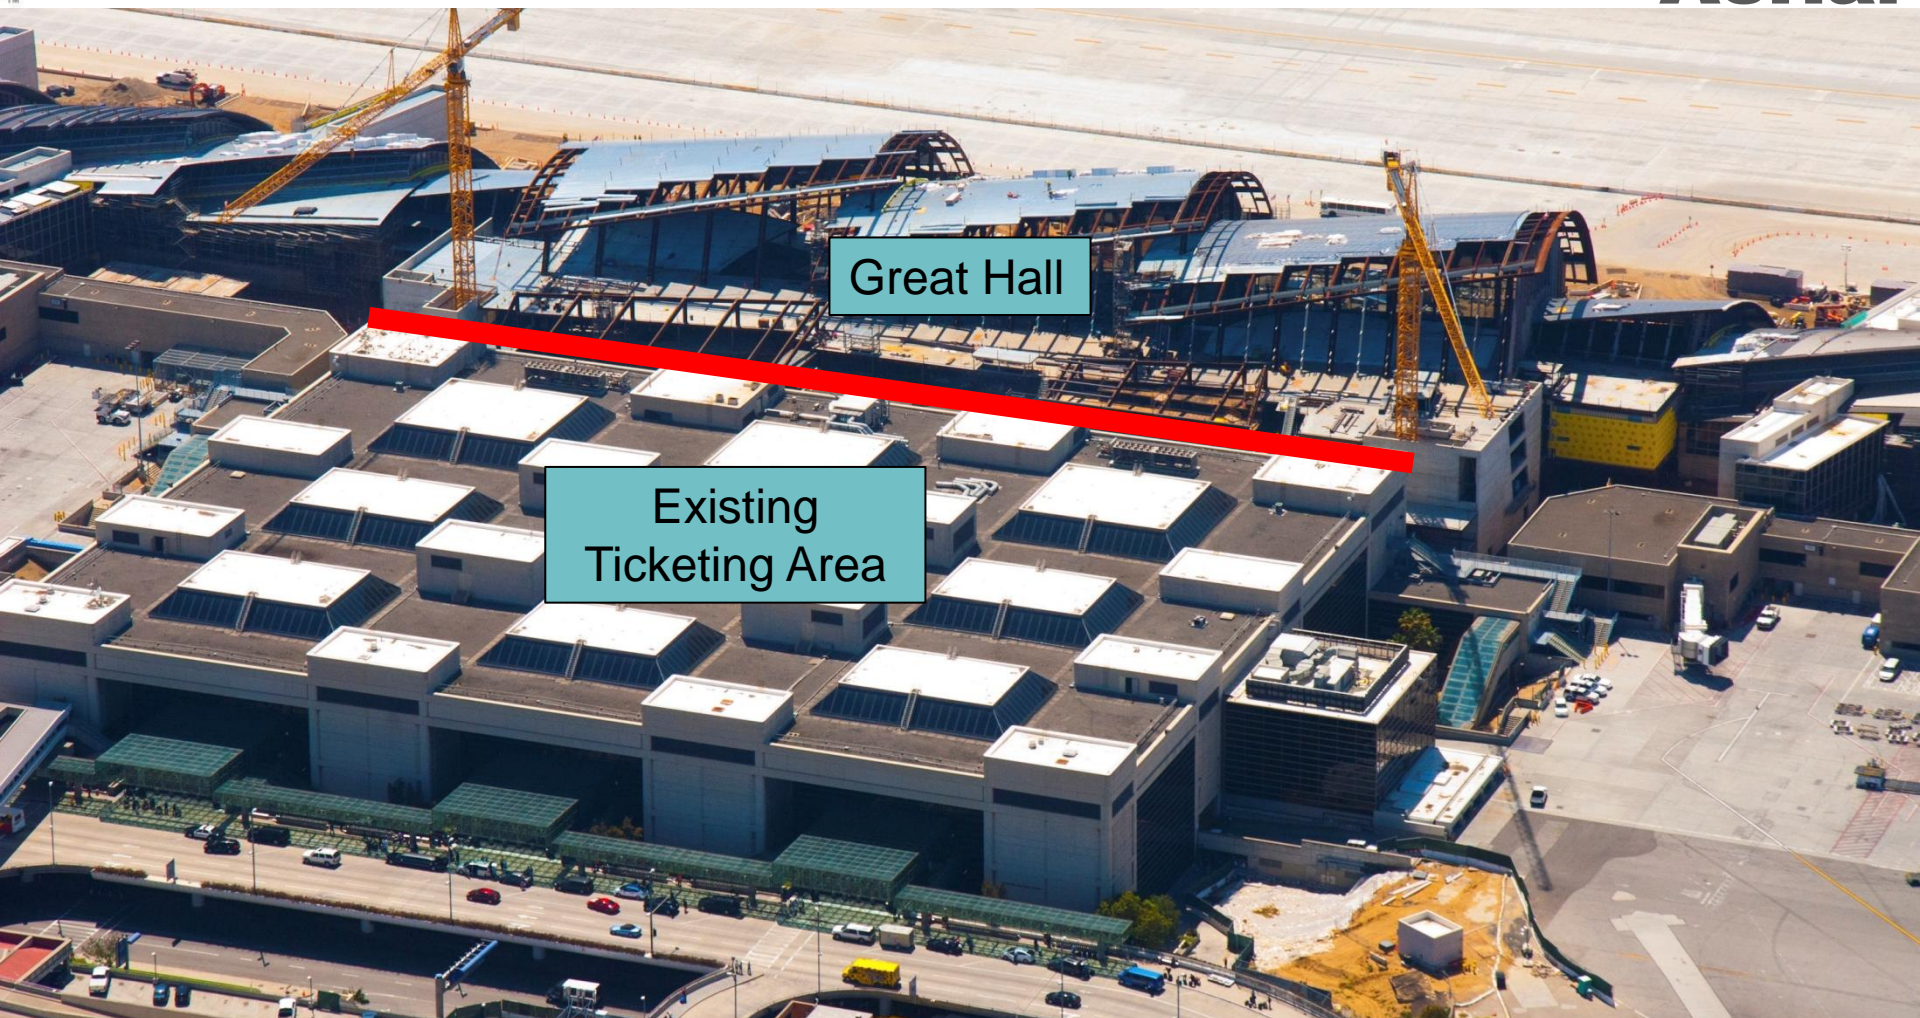

The New Tom Bradley International Terminal Aerial

The existing concourses will be demolished after the new concourses are built. Aircraft will be able to use the east and west side of the new concourses. The existing concourses only have gates on the east side.

April 28, 2012

The New Tom Bradley International Terminal Aerial

After the “Great Hall” is complete, the west wall (red line) of the existing ticketing area will be demolished to gain access into the new building.

April 28, 2012

The New Tom Bradley International Terminal Aerial

Another aerial view of the Great Hall and how connects to the back of the existing Tom Bradley International Terminal ticketing area.

April 28, 2012

The New Tom Bradley International Terminal Ramp Area

Jet bridge access points being installed at Gate 134.
May 17, 2012

The New Tom Bradley International Terminal Ramp Area

First jet bridge for the new terminal being delivered to Gate 134. Gate to open in Sept.
May 17, 2012

The New Tom Bradley International Terminal Ramp Area

Concrete being poured into the support structure for the jet bridges at Gate 130.
May 17, 2012

The New Tom Bradley International Terminal North Concourse

View from the sterile (arrival) corridor looking south. Note the flooring being installed.
May 17, 2012

The New Tom Bradley International Terminal North Concourse

Workers surfacing the terrazzo flooring.
May 17, 2012

The New Tom Bradley International Terminal North Concourse

Interior of the north concourse. Moving walkway and ceiling panels being installed.
May 17, 2012

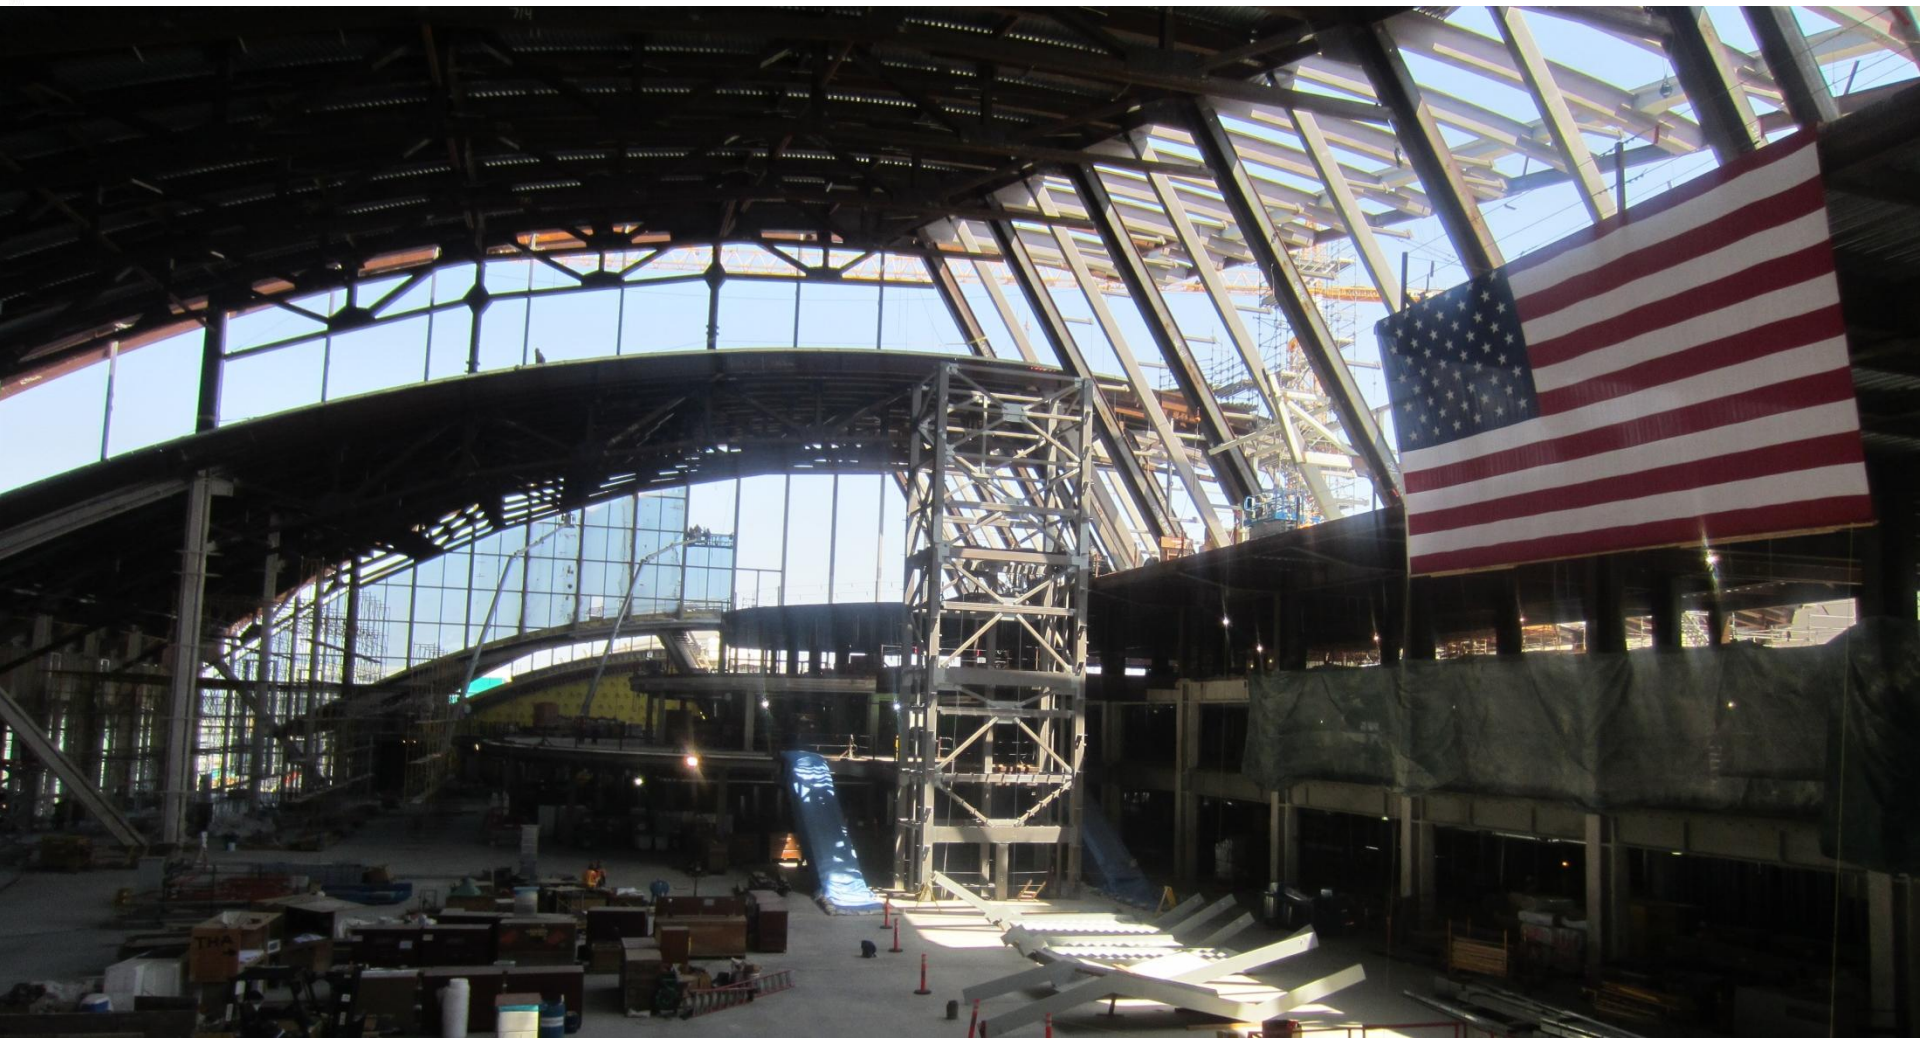

The New Tom Bradley International Terminal Great Hall

This long escalator leads passengers from north sterile corridor to customs. Passengers will have a great view of the Great Hall as they pass through the departure level.

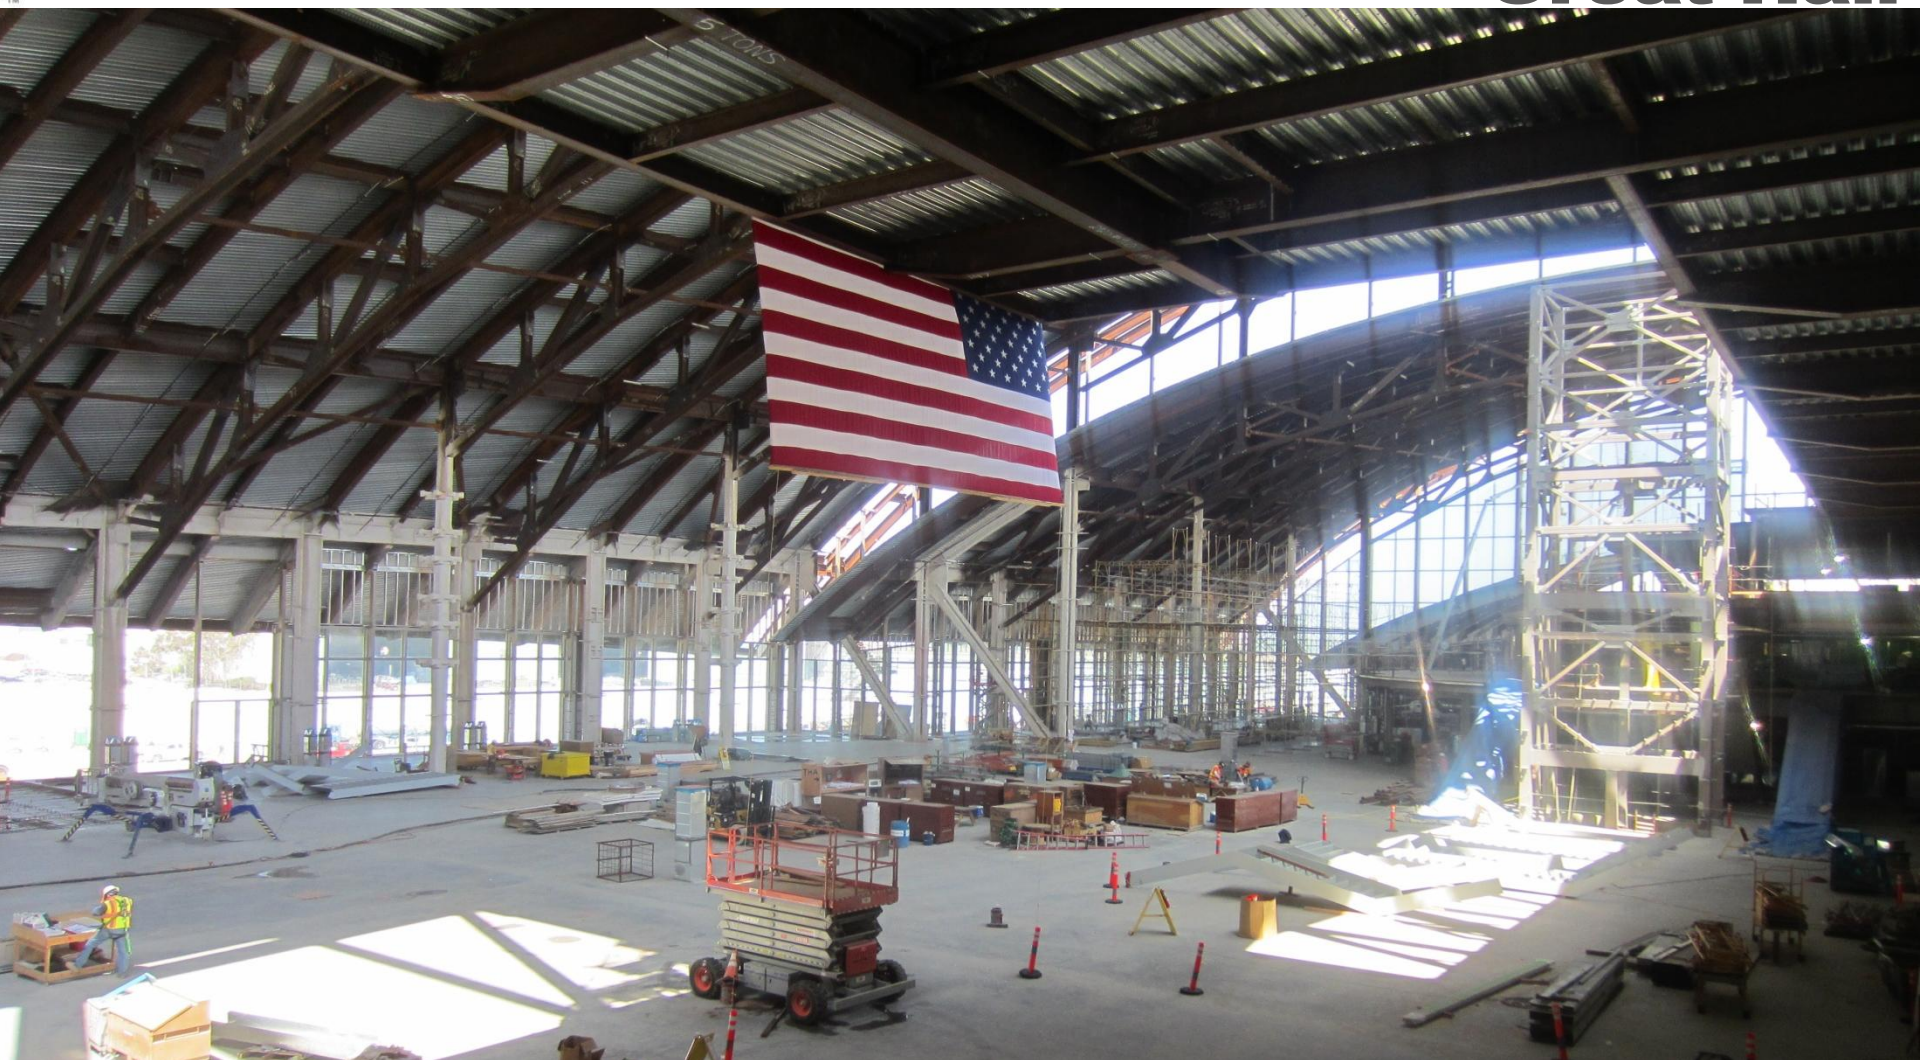

May 17, 2012

The New Tom Bradley International Terminal Great Hall

Interior of the Great Hall looking north.
May 17, 2012

The New Tom Bradley International Terminal Great Hall

Interior of the Great Hall looking northwest.
May 17, 2012

The New Tom Bradley International Terminal Great Hall

Interior

Exterior

Interior and exterior views of workers installing glass windows to close in the Great Hall.
May 17, 2012

Central Utility Plant

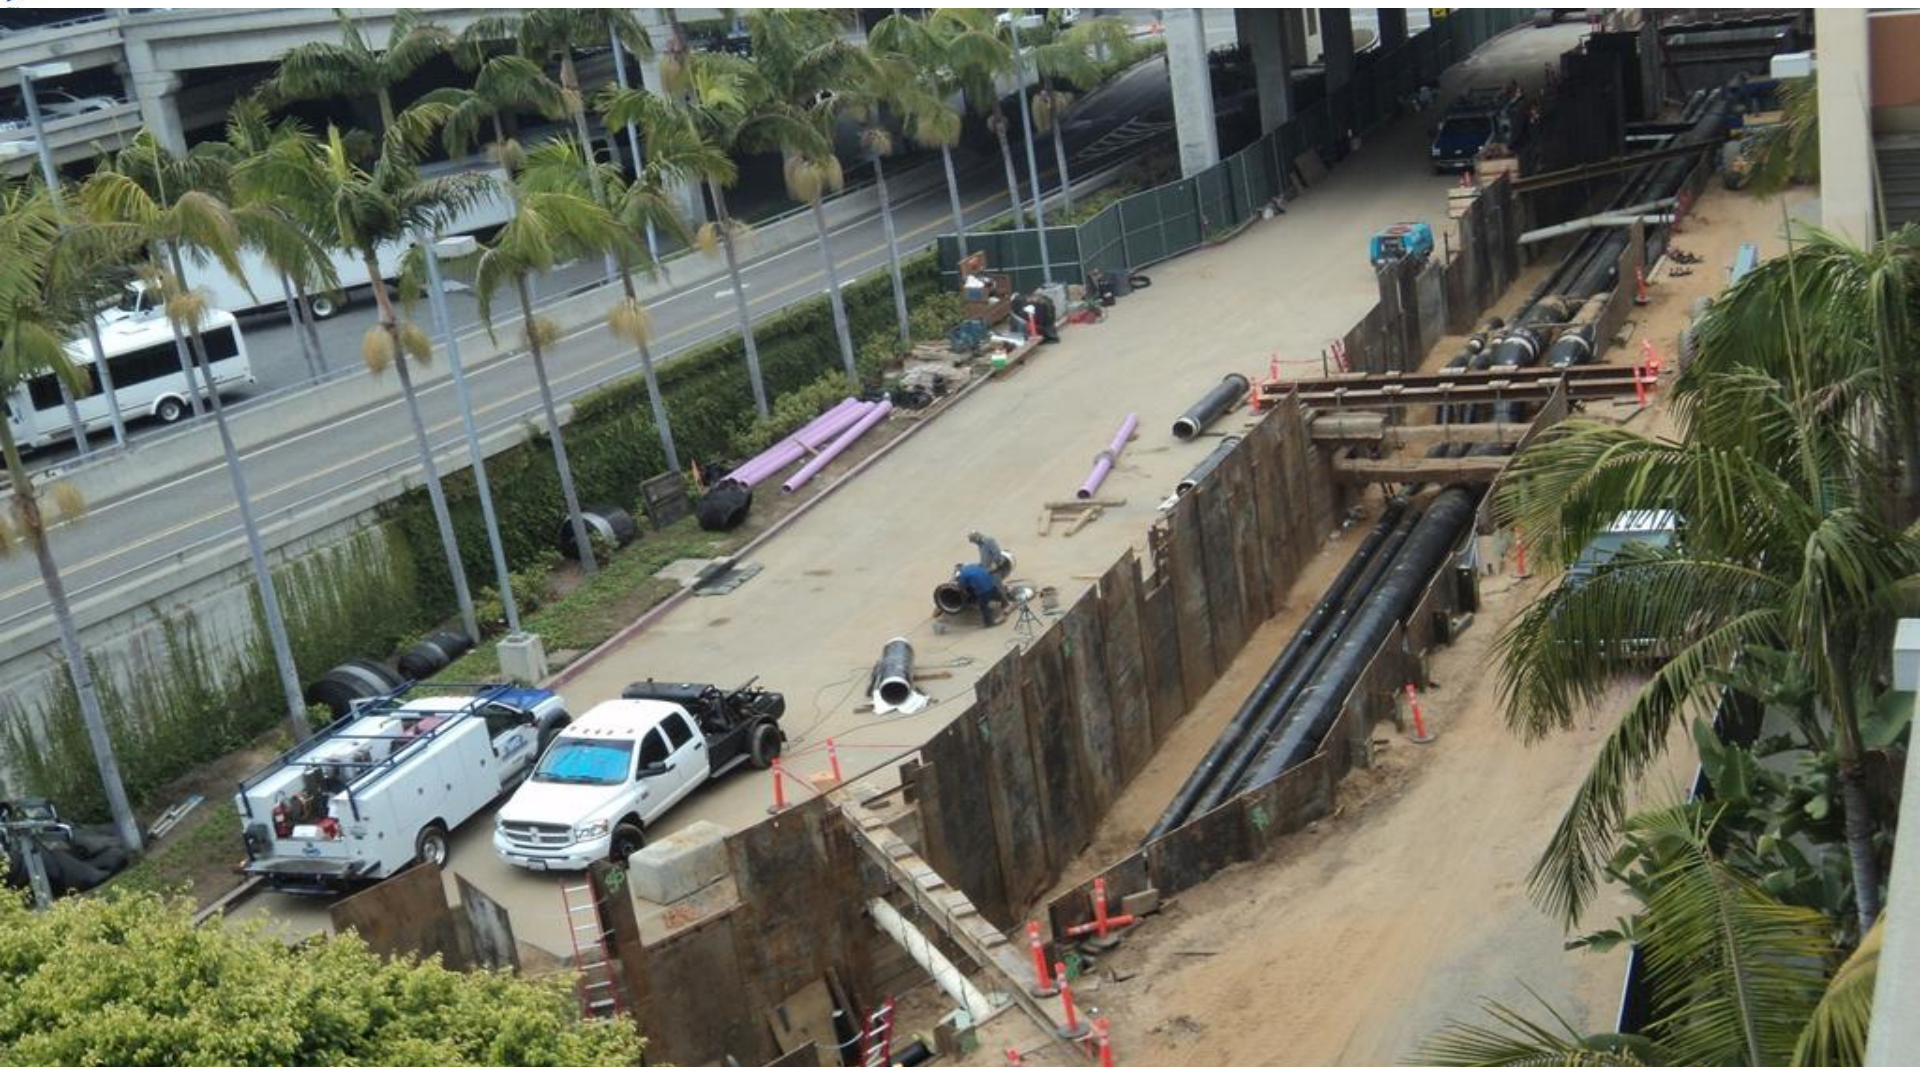

Cooling tower for new CUP under construction near Parking Structure 5.
May 11, 2012

Central Utility Plant

New Central Utility Plant rising behind the old plant.
May 11, 2012

Central Utility Plant

Utility distribution being installed along Center Way North.
May 11, 2012